Who's Who Candidates Sought

The Student Activities Committee is seeking candidates for nomination to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities. Only students who will graduate from Armstrong State College prior to September

1, 1979 with a minimum grade point average of 2.5 are eligible. Consideration will also be given to each candidates participation in campus or community activities.

Any Armstrong State College

student, faculty or staff member may recommend a student for nomination. However, before a student can be considered he or she must complete an information form available from the Student Activities Office prior to October 17. All candidates must then meet with the Student Activities Committee during one of three scheduled interview sessions.

In addition to being listed in the annual Who's Who publication, Armstrong's representatives will be recognized at the leadership awards banquet next May. For additional information contact Al Harris in the Student Activities Office.

S.P.S. Is Open For Business

A student Photographic Services Program has been established at ASC to eliminate duplication of photographic services by the Inkwell and the Geechee and also to provide services to any department or persons affiliated with Armstrong State College. Peggy Horne, a junior and English major at ASC, has been selected by the Publications Board as coordinator for the SPS.

The cost of buying the equipment for the SPS to bring it up to operational level will be divided evenly between the Inkwell and the Geechee or through other funds designated See S.P.S. page 7

Edmonds & Curley To Appear Friday 13

Friday the 13th has, in the past, been thought of as an unlucky day. The ASC Union Board's Special Events Committee says this year its going to change all that. Armstrong is in for a real treat on October 13th. The Edmonds and Curley comedy team returns for two performances during the day at 11:30 A.M. and 12:30 P.M. The performances will be held on the patio between the two student centers. The comedy team appeared here in 1976 and was a big success. During the past six years Edmonds and Curley have become the number one comedy team on campuses around the nation. Although they have appeared on nationwide television shows such as Mike Douglas, Merv Griffin, and Johnny Carson, they prefer college audiences. One of their top routines has Curley as a pilot and Edmonds as a co-pilot for a small airline.

Sound effects is another specialty of the team and this adds to their already funny skits. Be sure not to miss comedy on the patio starring Edmonds and Curley. Both shows are free to students so there is no excuse to miss them. See you there.

Inkwell Opinions

State of the S.G.A.

by John Opper,
President - SGA

I would like to welcome all of our new students to Armstrong as well as those of you who are returning for another long year. I have only been back in the saddle for a few days and it already feels like I never left. Even while on summer break, I seemed to be constantly in my office or attending a meeting.

Summer Quarter has been a very busy one for those of us involved in the SGA. The Board of Regents Community Liaison Committee met right up until the last part of June. The recommendations that came out of those deliberations were sent on to Atlanta for study by the Regents Desegregation Committee which has been charged with the task of coming up with a desegregation plan that will satisfy HEW. At this time, some points have been agreed upon, but the question of which option to choose is still under study. The decision will certainly be a rough one and I for one would not want to make it. Regardless of the outcome, I doubt the Board of Regents will score high in a popularity poll.

As with any controversial issue, the rumors seem to run rampant. You can bet the action the regents take will change the operation and structure of both Savannah State and Armstrong. Until the final decision is made, we can only speculate at what the outcome will be. The members and officers of the SGA are keeping a close eye on the situation and as soon as we know something concrete, I will see that the information gets to the Inkwell staff.

In a few weeks the SGA will hold elections to fill freshman

Senate Seats, as well as other vacancies in the Student Senate I encourage anyone interested to come and talk to any of the executive officers about the positions that are available.

The College Union Board also has some committee positions that need to be filled. So if you want to get involved in Student Activities, please drop by the SGA or Student Activities office and ask us about what opportunities we can offer you. It's probably more than you think!

Before you discard your copy of this article in disgust, at least give me the chance to tell you that this is not the ordinary "hey- whoope - whoope - now you're -a- freshman -and -boy -are you - green" article that you might have read in your older brother's or sister's copy of a college paper back when you were in the 9th grade. I hope to make this article a cordial, informative, noncondescending "hey - whoope - whoope - now you're -a- freshman -and -if -you follow - my - advice - you - won't look - quite - so - green" article. So, if you were able to understand the article so far, you have already survived one of the most traumatic experiences at Armstrong -- reading an Inkwell editorial.

First, a word to everyone who is not a first-quarter freshman at Armstrong. (Did I hear someone say that he was never a first-quarter freshman?) Well, excluding a few people who may be the exceptions to the proverbial rule, can you remember how it felt to be cut down in status from a senior in high school (B.M.O.C.) to a freshman in college? Do you remember slinking from building to building on the first day of class, hiding behind bushes and beneath benches hoping to find the elusive Victor Hall by 9:00 for your 8:30 class? Do you remember how painful the eyestrain was when you tried to read the incredibly unintelligible sign on Jenkins Hall while attempting to appear cool and trying not to get too close to the building (it's so embarrassing to walk all the way up the steps and have to turn around and start over), to find that you had memorized your map in reverse during your furtive glimpses at it in the parking lot and that you had just sneaked up the steps of a strange building called the student center? Do you remember sitting smugly in a classroom with a small number of really intellectual looking students and thinking, "Wow! I must have revealed great potential on my English Diagnostic Test to be in the same class with such an intelligent looking group!" -- and half way through the class, you begin to realize that the class you're

WOW! THE START OF A NEW SCHOOL YEAR, WE'LL GET TO SEE OLD FRIENDS, MEET NEW ONES, GO TO SCHOOL DANCES, PARTIES. IT'S GONNA BE GREAT!

DON'T FORGET THE EDUCATIONAL ASPECTS. LEARNING NEW THINGS, BROADENING YOUR MIND, STUDYING WITH FRIENDS.

GOD! I WISH IT WAS STILL SUMMER!

Welcome Freshmen!

supposed to be in is next door (English 111) and this is English 400? Do you remember how long it took you to find the restrooms? Do you remember how embarrassing it was to ask anyone for directions? ("Wow -- you must be a freshman!")

If you are able to dredge up from your memory any of the above painful situations, please remember to be nice to first quarter freshmen. If they ask you where Solms Hall is, don't give them withering looks or guffaw in their faces -- tell them where Solms Hall is. Don't tell them that the new student center is for seniors only or that they have to show their I.D.s to get into their classes.

Now, to return to the original audience of my article. First quarter freshmen, welcome! You do look rather wet behind the ears, you know. I have some advice that may help you feel (or at least look) less out of place at Armstrong. The advice is rather miscellaneous and any attempt at organization is fruitless, so I'll just write it as it occurs to me.

Number one, many of the professors may look rather strange to you. Don't be shocked just because your high school teachers didn't dress quite as outlandishly or come to school on horseback, for example. Professors are a different breed of educators (fortunately). They are often unusual people, but you will find sooner or later that many (perhaps most) of the professors at Armstrong are brilliant people who possess creative minds and who are excellent instructors.

Number two, the professors at Armstrong often allow you 5 or 6 unexcused absences from their classes. (No, the school doesn't call your parents or make you bring an excuse note if you don't feel like going to class.) However, just because you have extra freedom doesn't mean that you should take advantage of it. Skipping 5 or 6 days of class can put you extremely far behind in your notes, and you may never catch up. No matter what people tell you, there is a definite correlation between class attendance and your ability to perform well in that same class.

Third, if you need help, ask questions. There are numbers of people around who are happy to help you with almost any question that you can raise.

Fourth, don't be ashamed of the fact that this is your first quarter in college. Raise your eyes from your Adidas and face all those seemingly-hostile faces that you pass on the sidewalks. Smile at them and say "Hi!" Chances are that those faces will return you; greeting.

Fifth, as soon as you overcome your nervousness at being in college for the first time in your life, get involved with the people, classes, and organizations at Armstrong. Introduce yourself to the people in your classes and ask them their names.

Ask questions or offer opinions in class so that the professor will see you as an individual rather than just another blank face on his seating chart. Visit the library, go to the student centers, eat lunch in the cafeteria, get involved with the Student Government

Fall Registration Drops

Fall quarter, 1977 the number of students registered at ASC totaled 3159. Fall quarter, 1978 saw a drop of 1 or 2%. The number of undergraduate students registered at ASC this fall totals approximately 3075-80.

Mr. George Hunnicut, Registrar, lays some of the blame on the fact that about 200 students who had applied did not receive their BEOG money because of a cutback in funds. The graduate enrollment however, remains about the same as last year with about 325 to 330 students registering.

When asked about the parking problem Mr. Hunnicut stated that he believes that within a few weeks the parking should not be so bad. Mr. Hunnicut also expresses his appreciation to the students for their cooperation during registration including the sometimes long wait in lines.

Minors In History and Political Science

As in the case of many other colleges around the country it is now possible for a student at Armstrong to take a minor in either History or Political Science. In History the requirement is twenty-hours (20) of upper division History courses (300 level) with grades of "C" or better. In Political Science a minor requires twenty hours of upper division Political Science courses (with grades of "C" or better) with one course in each of the four special areas noted in the catalog description of the major. A student who has minored in History or Political Science will have a notation certifying the minor on his/her college transcript.

In today's competitive job market the notation of a History or Political Science minor should give an added dimension to a student's job application by showing to an employer that the applicant has received extra training in research and writing skills. The research skills which the two minors will help to develop would be especially useful to a student interested in attending graduate school or intent on pursuing a research oriented career in private business or in government service. For further information, contact Dr. Roger K. Warlick, Head of the History and Political Science Department.

ASC Directory

There is a possibility that ASC will be publishing a Student Director again this year. If you do not wish to have your name appear in the directory, come by the Student Affairs Office in the Administration Building and sign a statement to that effect. Under the Buckley Amendment, the following information is considered Directory Information: student's name, address, telephone listing, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, heights and weights of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received and the most recent previous educational institution attended by a student.

If you do not wish to have your information in the Directory, notify Student Affairs by Oct. 30, 1978.

Student Court Openings

There are several openings for students on the Student Court.

In order to apply, the only requirement is that you be in good standing. If you are a freshman, you should have a satisfactory high school grade point average. Pick up an application today from the Student Affairs Office in the Administration Building. There are six vacancies. We Need YOU on the Student Court!

Cannon Appointed head Baseball Coach

by Mary Ellen Whelan
South Atlantic Conference Baseball can expect some exciting surprises with a former S.E.C. batting and pitching champ heading the 1978-79

edition of the ASC baseball team. Coach Tommy Cannon, newly appointed head baseball coach, brings some very impressive credentials with him as he undertakes his first year on the collegiate level.

Cannon, a Savannah native, established himself as a collegiate athlete at Armstrong under the direction of then Coach Roy Sims. After a successful tenure as a Pirate, Coach Cannon played for the Georgia Bulldogs baseball team, being named captain during his senior year.

Returning to Savannah, Coach Cannon began his coaching career at Myers Junior High, later to take over as head basketball and baseball coach at Benedictine Military School. At BC, he was responsible for state contenders in basketball and baseball.

Other than his coaching and teaching responsibilities, Coach Cannon will be pursuing his masters degree.

Although the upcoming schedule has been decided, Coach Cannon feels confident with veteran players Eddie Aenchbacher, Ted Kinder, and Danny Pickell returning.

Women's Tennis

by Lynda Broussard

The Armstrong Women's Tennis team will begin their practice October 9th at 3:30 p.m. The team needs new players! There are four returning women from last year. They are: Stephanie McCarty, Sandi Eichholz, Cherri Strickland, and Sheryl McIver. The team will consist of eight players.

Fall practice will last until Thanksgiving Holidays. Practice will consist of skill improvement on strokes, and light conditioning. The season begins in February. And for all you tennis players a good prayer for you to remember is:

"Please don't let me be so nervous
when I toss the ball for service.
Give me speed and strength unhalting
Aces and no double faulting.
Instill in me the skill and dash
Of Connors, Laver, King and Ashe.
When a high lob starts to fall,
Must I always miss the ball.

Lord, I know you could, I'm sure,
Find me a tennis elbow cure.
With your guidance from above,
Never let me fall in "love".
And, Lord, while on matters of this sort Please let me find an open court.

Whelan's Wide World of Intramurals

With the start of fall quarter students, faculty, and staff await with great anticipation and enthusiasm the opening of the intramural season. Flag Football, Badminton Tournaments, a Bowling League, Swimming Meet, and Cross Country Meet are among the calendar of events planned for the quarter.

Intramurals, which are enjoyed by more students than any other activity, are funded through the Student Government Association by student activity fees. Anyone interested in participating in the program must pay the student activity fee to be eligible for the quarter.

Teams may enter as a recognized organization on campus or any independent on campus. An individual with no team affiliation can sign up in the intramural department and may possibly be placed on an independent team in need of players. George Bedwell, Director of the Intramurals, is looking forward to a successful season.

Don't go straight to see this movie!

Because there's going to be nothing straight about a CHEECH & CHONG film. Every generation has had their own comedy duo; the 30's had Laurel and Hardy. Abbott & Costello broke up the 40's and Martin and Lewis really fractured the 50's.

CHEECH & CHONG have helped make the 70's go "UP IN SMOKE."

CHEECH & CHONG are the comedy team that gave birth to rock comedy and in the process of turning on a whole generation, sold ten million albums, picked up numerous awards, including Cash Box and Billboard's best comedy duo, and a Grammy for their album, "Los Cochinos."

Now it's time for a CHEECH & CHONG movie.

C & C's "UP IN SMOKE" will make you feel very funny.

by the Student Government. All other work, however, done by the SPS will be billed to the person or organization receiving the services. These fees will generate enough revenue to replenish supply levels and provide funds for the SPS.

In the event that a publication wishes to use a print originally printed for another person or publication the SPS will provide such prints for a reproduction charge only.

The SPS is now looking for photographers. Photographers will receive $50.00 a quarter plus use of a camera and the dark room. They will also have free admission to any Union Board event that the photographer covers.

For further information about the SPS contact Al Harris in the Student Activities Office, 356-5300.

specific fields may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of three different test dates in 1978-79. Educational Testing Service, the nonprofit, educational organization that administers this testing program, said today that the tests will be given November 11, 1978, February 17, 1979 and July 21, 1979, at test centers throughout the United States.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are considered by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and used by several states for the credentialing of teachers or licensing of advanced candidates. Some colleges require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

On each full day of testing, registrants may take the Common Examinations, which measure their professional preparation and general educational background, and/or an Area Examination that measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective registrants should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, their colleges, or appropriate educational association for advice about which examinations to take and when to take them.

The Bulletin of Information contains a list of test centers and general information about the examinations, as well as a registration form. Copies may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08541.

Your clothes and hair can smell stale and unpleasant, too.

You don't notice it, but people close to you do. Especially if they don't smoke.
